Find out how your classmates feel today. Ask at least two additional questions.

Some people find it hard to talk about the way they feel. How easy is it for you to talk about your feelings? Do women frequently talk about their feelings? how about men? Do you think feelings are something too personal to talk about?

Listening

Jake is worried. Listen and mark T for true or F for false.

- (F) Jake doesn't know Amy.
- (T) The girls talked about Amy's trip.
- (F) Jake is good at geography.
- (F) He is worried about flying to Chile.
- (T) Rachel speaks Spanish.

Jake, remember my friend Amy?
 Sure, that friendly and cute girl?
 Right. I met her yesterday. She just came back from Chile and told me all about the things she did there.
 Chile? In Europe?
 No, silly. Chile is in South America. She had a wonderful time there.
 OK.
 She went skiing, visited a desert, a volcano, beautiful beaches, and the best part, she went to Easter Island.
 What's so special about this island?
 You don't know? Gosh, where were you during your geography classes? It's simply as mysterious as Area 51. There are giant statues called Moais. No one knows exactly why they were made.
 That sounds interesting, but I'm a little worried.
 Worried? Why?
 To be honest, I don't speak Spanish. How am I going to understand people?
 Lucky for you, I do. Come on, let's research Isla de Pascua.

By using what you heard and your general knowledge, mark the correct boxes.

Chile

Now listen to Rachel, check your answers and complete.

Jake is courageous.
 isn't

Jake and I decided to go to Chile. There, we can see many different things and visit interesting places like volcanoes, mountains, the Atacama Desert, and even relax on the beach if we want to. Chile is right next to the Pacific Ocean. We are definitely going to Easter Island. I'm certain we are going to have an amazing adventure there. Jake is not as adventurous as I am, but that's okay. He can learn to be.

When you have an opposing opinion about something, you can express it by using:

- Actually,...
- To tell you the truth,...
- To be honest,...
- The only thing is...

Choose a situation and tell your friend. He/She is going to give an opposing opinion about it.

Visiting a volcano is interesting, isn't it?

A night in the desert can be awesome. Don't you agree?

Going to a place where you don't know the language is fun, isn't it?

Match the questions and then ask a classmate three of them.
